About Impact Week

After starting out in Kenya in 2015 as an innovative concept that combines professional qualification and corporate social responsibility, Impact Week was scaled to several countries, such as Colombia, Rwanda, India, Nigeria, Jordan, Uganda, Nepal, and Ghana. In 2018, Impact Week was honored to win the title “Excellent Place” in the “Germany, Land of Ideas” competition - organized by the German Federal Government, the Federation of German Industries and Deutsche Bank.

We are happy to be organizing our second Impact Week together with the De La Salle-College of St. Benilde in the capital of Manila, to take place from Nov 15 through Nov 23, 2023.

Impact Week is a 10-days experience promoting innovation and entrepreneurship in developing and emerging economies as a foundation for sustainable growth. To make sure that the program is sustainable, we conduct a “Train-the-Coach” workshop to educate Junior Coaches and faculty staff of the local university partner prior to the 4-day main program.

The budget we need for our project is funded by the training fee for international Junior Coaches and by external sponsors, namely companies and foundations. For past events, sponsors such as Lufthansa, Accenture, PWC, SAP and Nestle have not just contributed financially, but they also shared our purpose.

They believe in the power of a human-centered approach, innovation and new ways of solving the world’s problems. That is what we want to do: solve some of the world’s most pressing problems by acting as facilitators and conductors.

As a participant, you will be trained as a Design Thinking Coach – receiving a training certificate - and actively coach a group of students from idea creation to pitch presentation in front of a professional jury.

Both you and your place of work will greatly benefit from this unique and valuable experience.

You will gain professional training and experience in one of the most successful innovation methodologies plus invaluable personal intercultural experience and memories. Your own professional endeavors or your company and employer environment will benefit just as much with you applying and promoting innovative spirit and methodology throughout your work tasks and challenges.

The participation fee for each Design Thinking Coach is € 2.995 (not including travel to and from Manila, Visa and Vaccines). For more details on the program and costs, please have a look at the following pages.

We look forward to your application!

To apply, please submit your application
no later than Thursday, August 31, 2023:

Benefits of becoming a Design Thinking Coach with Impact Week

"Impact Week for me is always a big learning opportunity, a challenging adventure – and a lot of fun."

Jochen Gürtler, former SAP
Expert, trainer and facilitator for design thinking, agile transformation and leadership

"It inspires me to work together with people who work on ideas for a positive impact and I love enabling them to bring these ideas to life."

Angela Haas – Creaholic
Human Centered Design Expert & professional Inventor

Become a part of a powerful multicultural team. Enjoy the Design Thinking journey with other junior coaches from international companies. Team-up with them and the local junior coaches during the Train-the-Coach and, together, coach students to develop new business ideas or solving pressing local problems.

Learn about Design Thinking and coaching methods from professional coaches and experienced mentors.

Become a ready-to-go Design Thinking Coach in only half the time it normally takes, and for a fraction of the cost.

Get back to your company with the skills and the motivation to help your team members align and engage, and drive them to success.

Design solutions with an iterative, human-centered approach, balancing desirability, feasibility and viability to increase value generation.

By joining the Impact Week, you can also help your company achieve its Social Corporate Responsibility goals.
